DMAHG News

- Farewell and good luck to EN, Carmen Harris
- Welcome new RN's Sarah and Maria
- New online booking system allowing bookings for Delroy Park!

NEW ONLINE BOOKING

NEW online booking provider HotDoc now allows bookings at DELROY and BULTJE ST.

HotDoc has it's own app which can be downloaded on all smart phone devices and allows you to check your appointment time, confirm and cancel your appointment. HotDoc also sends you reminders about your appointment in which you will have to confirm!

We are very excited about this change and hope this improves our services and patient satisfaction. Please note that new patients for GP's will still need to phone to make a booking.

How To Book Online

Visit www.dmahg.com.au and follow the prompts, or download the HotDoc app on your mobile device.

Psychological Testing IQ

What is it?

A formal process using validated and reliable measures of aspects of an individual's psychological or cognitive functioning. It might include paper and pencil tests like questionnaires and surveys, or the completion of set puzzle-like activities that evaluate certain skills such as planning, memory or problem-solving.

Why?

Psychological testing can answer a broad range of questions. For example, a prospective employer may have a psychologist test candidates as part of the employment recruitment process to determine what skills they have in a particular area. A psychologist may help test an individual to judge whether they are competent to manage their own affairs responsibly.

Psychologists often assess children with special learning needs, people with brain injuries, or older adults experiencing problems with declining memory so that they, and others around them better understand their needs.

Other psychologists provide assessments for the criminal justice system, or evaluate and provide professional psychological opinion to the courts on child custody cases.

How?

Mr Nicholas Hurford DMAHG's in house psychologist performs IQ tests. A consultation with Mr Hurford will need to be arranged prior to testing. Please see your general practitioner for a referral.
